DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: There are no subtitles in the specification.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ono et al. (US 5,235,466).

Regarding claim 1, Ono ('466) teaches in figure 1 and the corresponding text a lens system, the lens system comprising: a first lens (6) having a first refractive index and a second lens (5) having a second refractive index, the second refractive index being higher than the refractive index of air and lower than the first refractive index (read quartz vs. glass), wherein the first and the second lens each have an outer surface and a generally aspherical critical refractive surface, said critical refractive surfaces having complementary shapes (read flat) and being arranged in direct contact with each other such that a refractive interface for the lens system is formed between the first and the second lens.

Art Unit: 2879

Please note that the limitation of "for use in manufacturing CRT screens" is an intended use limitation and thus has not been afforded patentable weight.

Regarding claim 2, Ono ('466) teaches the outer surface of the first lens is flat.

Regarding claim 3, Ono ('466) teaches the outer surface of the second lens is flat.

Regarding claim 5, Ono ('466) teaches both the first and the second lens are made from a solid material.

Regarding claim 6, Ono ('466) teaches the first lens is made from quartz and the second lens is made from glass.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ono et al. (US 5,235,466), of record, in view of van Nes et al. (US 4,222,642).

Regarding claim 7, Ono teaches all of the claimed limitations except for the method of making a screen for a CRT.

Further regarding claim 7, van Nes ('642) teaches in figure 2 and the corresponding text a device for making a screen for a CRT comprised of, in part, a lens (9) for the purpose of producing even phosphor lines.

Art Unit: 2879

Hence it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the method of making device of Van Ness with the lens of Ono for the purpose of producing even phosphor lines.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record neither shows nor suggest a lens system of comprised of, in part, a solid material, and the second lens is made from a liquid material, the first lens being submerged in said liquid material and the liquid material being enclosed in a transparent container.
